ABOUT ME

I am a passionate student at Computer Science, just started to build my career and I am looking for the opportunity of an internship or maybe a job where I can easily adapt, improve my skills and help the company with the experience I accumulate due to my desire to work in the beloved area.

Me, as a person, I seem to be a little introverted at first, but I can change quickly. I consider myself kind to people, respectful and also wary when it comes to be something serious. My biggest advantage is that I like to be a professional in any activity I am part from or any task I have to complete.
